Shake-up 'will give town greater voice'

COUNCILLORS have given their overwhelming support to a proposal for a single west Suffolk unitary authority, saying it could especially benefit Haverhill.

At its meeting on Tuesday night, St Edmundsbury Borough Council backed a draft concept statement for the authority and agreed to ask the Boundary Commission to take up the plan.

The authority would cater for a population of more than 200,000 and may be based in Bury St Edmunds.

Now the council needs to demonstrate community support for the plan, which could lead to greater powers and even more budgets being passed down to local councils, or residents groups, to run some of their own services.

Nigel Aitkens, St Edmundsbury's cabinet member for Haverhill, said the authority would be the best way to secure jobs for the future and keep young talent in the area.

He said: "People just want things there and things to work. A west Suffolk unitary would give them that and I think it is a wonderful proposal.

"In the west we look to Cambridge, particularly in the Haverhill area, and we want to make sure we maintain the prosperity and links, and the level of jobs, to keep young people here.

"I think that Haverhill, and other market towns like Newmarket and Mildenhall, have got a lot of commonality and in a west Suffolk unitary authority their voices are going to be heard more than in an authority covering the whole of Suffolk, where problems of Lowestoft and other coastal areas have to be dealt with.

"I think the councillors of this area have a clear understanding of what is needed to encourage the economic prosperity of our area."

John Griffiths, leader of the borough council, told businessmen at a Haverhill Enterprise event last week: "We wish to continue the level of support for Haverhill, but I do not believe a unitary authority for the whole of Suffolk would offer that support for Haverhill.

"I would ask you to support a west Suffolk unitary authority which would be large enough to achieve economies of scale, but small enough to serve the needs of local communities."

Gordon Mussett, Haverhill town clerk, said the town council was yet to discuss the issue and would wait until the Boundary Commission made its recommendations in July before debating it.

Slow plan to raise fast cash for trip

A SCHOOLGIRL raising money to help fund a trip to do community work in South Africa has come up with a novel idea – a Snail Race Night.

But Storm Metcalf, 15, will not be using real snails for the free event, which will take place at Horseheath Village Hall on Friday. Instead, she will show recordings of cartoon snail races with all the twists and turns found on the racecourse.

The Linton Village College pupil is off on a World Challenge trip later this year and must raise £2,650 in sponsorship to take part. She will carry out community work in Lesotho and embark on an arduous trek into the Drakensberg mountains.

Storm has been doing various jobs, including child minding, pet sitting, recycling, laminating and bag packing. Gifts of money for birthdays and Christmases for the past two years have helped her raise £1,600 so far.

The event will start at 7.15pm, with the first race at 8pm. Bar refreshments and amusements will be on offer.

Police link break-ins

TWO incidents in which vehicle windows were smashed and speakers stolen from one of them are being linked by police.

In one incident at Gloucester Road, Haverhill, between Saturday evening and Sunday morning, offenders broke into a garage then broke into a Peugeot 106 inside. A parcel shelf containing speakers was stolen. In the same road between 3pm on Saturday and 9.30am on Sunday a blue Ford Fiesta in a parking bay was broken into and searched, but nothing was stolen.

If you have information relating to either of these incidents contact Pc Ian Davies at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100, or ring Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Gallery to host artists

A MEMBER of the Guild of Essex Craftsmen, along with two professional artists, will be demonstrating their skills and techniques to visitors at the 1st Floor Gallery in Haverhill on Saturday.

Helen Rose will be demonstrating glass jewellery making between 10am and 1.30pm.

Jan Couling will be teaching people about pastel work between 10am and noon, and cartoonist and illustrator Jon Adkin will be on hand to meet visitors from 1.30-3.30pm.

For further information contact Gary on (01440) 762444 or email gary@garytheobald-art.com

Raiders ram vans

RAM RAIDERS used a stolen car to smash into the front of a hire company's premises and damage two vans inside.

The break-in happened at Boundary Road, Haverhill, between 2am and 2.40am last Friday when the warehouse door was forced open, damaging two vans parked inside. Power tools were also stolen from the premises.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Paul Gant at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Local lads set to rock appeal

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CLASSICAL music fans have handed a magnificent £600 to our St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal – and rock fans are set to make their contribution at a charity gig in June.

Haverhill Sinfonia donated the proceeds of their well-attended concert on Sunday night to the appeal, which is aiming to raise £40,000 for the hospice so patients in the Haverhill area can receive services in their own homes rather than travelling to Bury St Edmunds.

The latest donation takes the total raised so far to more than £6,000 and more offers of support are coming in all the time (see Review, Page 19).

■ Golfers can still join in an annual tournament organised by the Swan pub in Clare at Haverhill Golf Club next Tuesday, with all proceeds going to the appeal. The first tee off is at 9am and the event is open to individuals, pairs or teams. Ring (01787) 278030 to register.

■ Haverhill band Umbrella Assassins are organising a benefit concert on Saturday, June 21 to raise money for the appeal, when Haverhill Arts Centre will play host to some of the hottest local talent around.

The line-up will include Umbrella Assassins, Darren Michael Angelo

■ UNIQUE SOUNDS . . . from local band Umbrella Assassins will help boost our appeal total with a special charity gig in June.

Smith and the Kraze, Pellys Field, Indigo and DJ sets from The Honoured Few, with all proceeds donated to the appeal.

Umbrella Assassins was formed early last year by four mates all wanting to create music and all bringing different influences to the mix. Their unique sound ranges from rock to indie and more leftfield music, fusing together to bring a big slice of British punk/rock.

Steve Church is on vocals and guitar, Bunge on lead guitar, Garry McKervill on bass and Luke Andrews on drums.

Garry's daughter, Mia, will be celebrating her fourth birthday on the day of the concert and will be watching her dad perform for the first time. The band hopes many more will come along to hear them.

The event is open to all ages.

Garry said: "Haverhill has some great bands and we are very keen to help promote what Haverhill has to offer. We hope to put this event on each year.

"We have wanted to do a charity gig for some time and when we saw your appeal in the paper we thought it would be ideal. Everyone knows someone who has experience of the hospice and they do a brilliant job."

The event will also help promote Nicky's Way, a grieving service the hospice provides for kids and young adults. The concert has been sponsored by Kirton Healthcare, a local business, which was keen to get involved. Tickets will be £5, available from the Haverhill Arts Centre box office on (01440) 714140.

For more information on the band visit www.my-space.com/umbrellaassassins

■ Elsewhere, the St Mary's Church Women's Fellowship held a special raffle at their monthly meeting and raised £65 for the appeal and donations are continuing to arrive at the Weekly News office and the hospice shop in the High Street.

■ Don't forget you can contribute online and let us know of your future fund-raising plans.

How can you help us?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund-raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible.

If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause.

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Casablanca adventure in £100 car

THREE friends have left on a road rally from Calais to Casablanca, hoping the old banger they are using gets them there.

James Coxall, Shane Richards and Steve le Ber have left Castle Camps on the five-day trip in a battered 1989 Volvo 340 which cost them £100 to buy. They are raising money through sponsorship for the CLIC Sargent cancer charity.

The rally is organised by Street Safari and the aim is to get from France to Morocco in the quickest possible time. To make things even harder, the rules dictate that the trek must be completed in a car which cost no more than £100.

James, 25, said they hoped to enjoy crossing the Millau Viaduct, the world's tallest road bridge, before travelling along Spain's Mediterranean coast and on to Casablanca.

He said: "We bought a car from a bricklayer complete with half a tonne of brick dust, some very dodgy Cliff Richard tapes and a rat's nest.

"We have been fixing and pimping up the car in our own unique way and we are confident it will get us there. While travelling along in our wonderful vehicle, taking part in daily challenges and admiring the scenery, we hope to raise some serious cash for CLIC Sargent, which cares for children with cancer."

To sponsor their effort ring 07790 565635 or email policeandthieves76@hotmail.com

Warning for rock throwers

A POLICE chief is urging the public to help catch the person who threw a large rock at a taxi driver's car.

The driver, who asked not to be identified, was only slightly injured by the incident as he drove in Wrating Road, Haverhill. But Inspector Adrian Dawson believes he had a lucky escape and could easily have been killed or caused a serious accident.

This is not the first incident of its kind where missiles have been thrown from the footbridge which crosses the road and Inspector Dawson fears there could be a death unless the practice is stopped.

The rock was thrown at a silver Skoda Octavia at around 5.10pm on Saturday. It struck the driver on the arm before bouncing off the passenger seat and damaging the windscreen. Police are treating the incident as criminal damage endangering life.

The taxi driver said: "It was so stupid. It was only afterwards I realised how serious this could have been. I could have lost control, ploughed into a pedestrian and killed them."

Tastes of Europe in foreign invasion

FRENCH market traders called out their wares, along with English ones, as a friendly foreign invasion came to Haverhill.

Mayor of St Edmundsbury, Cllr Margaret Charlesworth, and Cllr Elaine McManus, deputy mayor of Haverhill, officially opened the town's three-day continental market last Friday.

Visitors sampled tastes of the Continent when the hugely popular market set up more than 30 brightly coloured stalls along Queens Street, selling fine foods, bags, luxury cosmetics and traditional craft products. Children's rides and entertainments were provided on Sunday.

Cllr Nigel Aitkens, St Edmundsbury cabinet member for Haverhill, said: "Previous continental markets have exceeded all expectations – but this year's was bigger and better than ever before. This year we added extra entertainments over the weekend and hoped people enjoyed soaking up the atmosphere."

Home hidden by straw will stay, says council

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A FARMER who built a house illegally and hid it behind straw bales has won planning approval.

David Spencer built a three-bedroom farmhouse behind a 15-foot-high barricade at Lower Camps Hall, Castle Camps. But, despite its erection without consent, South Cambridgeshire District Council has decided to grant retrospective permission for the house.

The move has outraged Peter Barnes, who used to own and farm the land at Lower Camps Hall.

He said: "I am disgusted. It seems anybody can buy some land, say they are farming and put a house on it."

The officer's report for the planning committee notes three objections, which state "there appears to have been a deliberate attempt by the applicant to conceal the building".

Mr Barnes first noticed the building in December 2006, when he saw smoke coming from a chimney behind the bales.

The planning committee told Mr Spencer to stop using the building as a dwelling within six months, but gave permission for a mobile home to be moved onto the site as a residence.

Mr Spencer intends to use the building as butchery premises for his livestock business.

Castle Camps Parish Council recommended refusal for the mobile home and retrospective application on the permanent building.

The report summarises an objection to the building from the owner of neighbouring Toad Hall.

One point states that: "People must not be seen to be benefiting from illegal activity by ignoring planning laws. Approval of the applications will set a dangerous precedent."

Councillor Sebastian Kindersley congratulated the Spencers on setting up their business.

But he said: "What is probably not very marvellous is that it was done entirely without any kind of planning consent."

The officer's report noted 15 letters of support for the Spencers had been received, alongside two separate petitions of support which had gained 24 signatures.

The report instructed the committee that erecting a building without permission is not a reason for rejecting retrospective permission.

It adds: "The application must be considered as if the building were not there, and against the same criteria used for any proposed development."

Car break-ins spree goes on

A SPATE of thefts from vehicles is continuing in Haverhill and police are warning people to remove valuables from their cars while unattended.

Thieves broke into a black Skoda Octavia parked in York Road between 11.30pm on Saturday and 12.05am on Sunday by smashing a window and stole a handbag, jewellery and a touch screen mobile phone used for taxi fares.

Call Pc Jonathan Chapman at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 with any information.

At St Botolphs Way between 4.15pm on Saturday and noon on Sunday, a white Skoda Felicia van was broken into after thieves damaged locks. A hedge trimmer and a chainsaw were stolen.

A rucksack, sat nav, cash, CDs and a drill were taken when thieves forced a lock on a white Peugeot Expert van in Haycocks Road between 4.30pm and 5.10pm on Monday.

Call Pc Will Wright on (01284) 774100 if you have any information about the two thefts.

'Devious' Dane breaches order

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A DEVOUS paedophile convicted of possessing images of child pornography on his computer has been fined £100 for failing to comply with his community order and warned he could go to jail if he does so again.

Disgraced former Haverhill town councillor Mabon Dane, 38, appeared at Ipswich Crown Court last week where he denied breaching the order imposed on him in 2006 when he was found guilty after a trial of 16 charges of making indecent images of children and one of possessing them.

He was warned by Judge David Goodin that he would have little option but to impose a custodial sentence if Dane failed to comply with the order again. The judge also criticised him for his continued denial of the charges.

He said: "Mr Dane is querulous, petulant and devious and I have no doubt a difficult character to work with; nevertheless the work must be done.

"Simply turning up for appointments is not complying with the order if he is not engaging in the work which is intended to change his behaviour and reduce the risk of him offending again.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the visit on January 7 was conducted in a proper and reasonable way, he was treated in a courteous and proper way. It is unsurprising that the defendant finds himself in the position that he does as his total denial of what he had done makes it impossible for him to engage.

"It is in everyone's interests, yours and society's, that the risk you run of creating a demand for these images is reduced."

Prosecutor Russell Butcher said that Dane, of Gazelle Close, Colchester, was sentenced to a 36-month community punishment and put on the Sex Offenders' Register in July 2006.

Last December he refused to allow a probation officer and a police officer into his home and in January this year he let them in, but refused to answer any questions. He turned on a Dictaphone to record their questions, then sat reading a book. On a visit to the probation office on the next day, he refused to answer any questions and simply wrote them down.

Dominic Bell, Dane's fifth probation officer, said Dane had previously refused to answer any questions about his past history before 1993 and had wanted to dictate how his supervision should be conducted.

Dane, who is now a follower of Islam, told the court he was not happy with the police officer visiting his home and would have answered questions if the probation officer came alone.

Dane claimed he suffers from Asperger's Syndrome and found it hard to follow the officer because of his Irish accent and quick speech.

Judge Goodin also ordered Dane to pay £200 costs.

Healthy art walk

PUPILS got a look at Constable Country when they took part in a healthy walk. Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College, in Haverhill, is working towards achieving Healthy Schools status, and is encouraging pupils to live a healthy life.

As part of the effort, a group of Year 10 pupils was involved in an organised walk through Constable Country at East Bergholt. They started with an assembly at school where they learned about the importance of a healthy way of life and paintings and sketches of Constable's work were shown.

The 90-minute walk took students through the fields where Constable painted. Rob Thompson, head of PE, said: "The weather was kind to us and even the sun shone. To encourage our students along the way, our school sports staff marshalled the route."

Enterprising group to sell town's assets

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A SLICK new image of Haverhill as a new business destination for the 21st Century has been launched by the Haverhill Enterprise group.

Biotech giant Genzyme hosted the event at its headquarters in the town last Thursday, and leading business and political leaders from across the region were among the guests at the champagne reception.

A new brochure and website have been produced to promote Haverhill as a destination for new businesses, to add to the many who have already chosen to move to the town – almost 1,000 new jobs are due to be created by new businesses in the next few of years.

Richard Herbert, chairman of Haverhill Enterprise, said the group, formed by local business people 13 years ago, had achieved great success in raising the profile of the town and lobbying for improvements to its infrastructure.

The new Focus on Haverhill initiative was aimed at building on that success with an “energetic” promotion of the town's key assets.

Key objectives for the future would be: to secure the northern bypass connecting the Cambridge and Bury St Edmunds roads as soon as possible; to improve the range of retail outlets in the town centre; and to see land at the Cambridge entrance to the town developed into a technology park.

Mr Herbert said: “Haverhill is a prime location for business, it is near to Cambridge and Stansted, we are successful and you only have to look around to see that.”

“There has been major investment in the town over the past three years and we need to keep it up.

■ BRIGHT FUTURE . . .

Sandra and Karen McGerty take a look at the new Focus on Haverhill brochure at the launch.

■ LOOKING AHEAD . . . MP

Richard Spring, John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, and Richard Herbert, chairman of Haverhill Enterprise.

Picture:

“The UK looks to be heading for tougher times in the years ahead and I believe the huge spread of business we have in the town will give us protection against the economic downturn.”

Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, said Haverhill had become a “powerhouse” for investment within the borough and the council had committed substantial investment of its own to improve the infrastructure.

MP Richard Spring said in his 10 years representing the West Suffolk constituency, the success story of Haverhill had given him the most pleasure.

He said: “The fact that major businesses like Genzyme have chosen to locate here says everything about what an outstanding place Haverhill is to live and work in.

“This is a huge success story for the 21st Century, not just for the town, but for the whole region. The Haverhill Enterprise campaign is opening that up to a wider audience and I applaud that.”

Swimmers make splash for charity

SWIMMERS will be making a big splash for charity.

They will complete the Swimathon 2008 challenge at Haverhill Leisure Centre on Saturday, April 19 - helping to raise £1.8 million for Marie Curie Cancer Care and The Swimathon Foundation.

Abbeycroft Leisure is one of more than 500 pools nationwide taking part in Swimathon 2008 and expects to draw a crowd to support the swimmers who are taking part to raise funds for this worthwhile cause.

Marie Curie Cancer Care provides high quality nursing, free, to give terminally ill patients the choice of dying at home supported by their families. As well as providing a home nursing service, the charity runs 10

Marie Curie Hospices, which actively promote the best quality of life for people with cancer and other illnesses, completely free.

Michelle Curran, sports development co-ordinator, said: "It's going to be fantastic to see everybody in our community coming together for this giant fundraising challenge, achieving personal fitness goals and raising money for Marie Curie Cancer Care."

The Swimathon takes place between April 17-20 throughout the UK. Registration remains open until April 15 or visit www.swimathon.org for details.

Sponsorship cash should be in by Friday, June 27.

Disco reward doubles

A DJ who had most of his equipment stolen from a van parked outside a pub is doubling his reward offer to try and get it back.

Nathan Watts, 27, lost around £15,000 worth of equipment from his NW Entertainments disco business when it was taken from a white Transit van parked for about 20 minutes outside the Black Horse pub in Camps Road, Haverhill.

His offer of a £250 reward after the theft, on Saturday, March 15, has so far failed to lead to the return of his equipment and Nathan is now doubling it to £500 and will reimburse anyone who has unknowingly bought his equipment so they do not lose out.

Nathan, of Stoke-by-Clare, said he would be happy with an anonymous tip-off to get back his gear, including large speakers, scanners, lights and more than 2,000 CDs.

He said: "People I don't even know have rallied round offering to loan me equipment to help out, which is really nice. We are still carrying on, but we cannot do as much as we did before."

Ring Nathan on 07971 187962, contact Sergeant Vince Williams at Haverhill Police on (01284) 77411 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Court clears man of assaulting girl

A GRANDFATHER has been cleared of assaulting a young girl and making sexual remarks towards her.

Christopher Turner, 64, appeared at Bury St Edmunds magistrates' court on Tuesday accused of common assault on the 12-year-old at Kedington in September last year.

He was found not guilty after a day-long trial, with DVD and video-link evidence from the girl, now aged 13, and her brother, who the court ordered should not be identified.

The girl told police that she had been visiting a tree house with her brother when Mr Turner came up behind her and startled her.

She said Mr Turner put his arm around her and used a slang term to suggest he wanted to have sex with her.

She said Mr Turner had been clenching his fists and she was frightened by him.

Her brother told the court the man had made sexual remarks and he thought he had touched his sister's breast as he hugged her with both arms.

He said he wanted to get away as soon as possible and feared the man might try to take his sister.

Mr Turner, of Coronation Cottages, Great Wratting, said he had only put his arm around the girl in a reassuring gesture and had apologised if he had frightened her.

He had only approached the children because they were near his car and he denied making any sexual remarks towards them.

He said: "I might use the word in conversation with adults if they could take a joke, but not in front of children.

"I would not use it in front of my grand-daughters, it would be disgusting.

"They just did not like the look of me. The children have made it up and the mum and dad are sticking with them."

The mother of the two children said her daughter had come home very distressed and said a man had grabbed her.

Her daughter was already a nervous child with "phobias about everything", but since the incident she had refused to go out alone.

Paul Cammiss, defending, said it would be "totally contradictory" that a man of almost 65, of previous good character, would suddenly take the opportunity to make inappropriate sexual remarks to the children when his wife was nearby.

Call for tutors

TUTORS for adult education are needed at West Suffolk College in Haverhill. The centre is currently recruiting tutors for its September 2008 programme of courses ranging from art to foreign languages. Centre manager Barbara Adshead said: "The demand is there. Local people are asking for new courses and at the moment we don't have the tutors to run them. We want to be able to offer a wide range of classes for everyone without the need to travel outside the town." Anyone interested in teaching should contact the centre on (01440) 712177 or email haverhill@wsc.ac.uk

Jealous bouncer punched drinker

A PUB doorman lashed out and perforated a man's eardrum because he thought the customer was making advances to his wife.

Charles Wandrag was on duty at The Bell in Haverhill High Street last July when the incident took place.

The 26-year-old appeared at Ipswich Crown Court this week to be sentenced after earlier admitting assault occasioning actual bodily harm.

Wandrag worked during the day as an engineer in Royston and on Friday and Saturday nights for a security company as a doorman, the court was told.

He thought a customer had been over-affectionate towards his wife, who also worked as a member of the door staff at the pub, and so he attacked him.

John Fenn, prosecuting, said after ejecting the victim and another person from the pub, Wandrag had punched the man on the side of the head, causing him to fall backwards into the road.

The victim suffered a perforated eardrum and needed a week off work to recover.

The couple had been married for two years and were living with Mrs Wandrag's mother in Greendrift, Royston, said Andrew Shaw, mitigating.

Mr Shaw said: "This was a momentary aberration involving an honest, hard-working young man."

Wandrag, who is from South Africa, was made the subject of probation service supervision for 18 months and ordered to complete 150 hours of unpaid community work.

Because of Wandrag's financial situation, Judge David Goodin said he would only have to pay £100 compensation to his victim.

Probe demanded into chief exec's £220,000

BY John Goode

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CALLS have been made for an investigation into the "outrageous salary" given to a council's new chief executive.

Labour councillors want the district auditor to look into the £220,000 salary given to Andrea Hill, who joins Suffolk County Council this month.

Mrs Hill, who previously headed Bedfordshire County Council, is being paid £70,000 more than the person she replaces, Mike More. He is moving to Westminster City Council.

The Labour group say they have prepared a detailed submission for the auditor, setting out the "serious" breaches of rules in the run-up to a council meeting two weeks ago which approved Mrs Hill's appointment.

They say the Tory-led council failed to achieve "best value" for taxpayers as a result of the decision, especially as the future of the council is in doubt.

The council is consulting on plans to run all local government services in the county, effectively creating a new authority.

Cllr Julian Swainson, leader of the Labour group, said: "At a time when it is entirely possible the council will be wound up, I would question the need to appoint a new chief executive at all."

■ ANGER OVER SALARY

... for new Suffolk County Council chief executive Andrea Hill, who will be paid £220,000. The previous chief executive was paid £70,000 less and the council's Labour group has called on the district auditor to examine the salary, claiming a "serious" breach of rules.

"There are several very capable senior directors of services who could manage until a decision over the council's future has been decided without the need to appoint a very expensive new chief executive."

Cllr Kevan Lim, deputy leader of the Labour group, said: "There is massive public concern about how the council agreed this outrageous salary.

"We believe this salary was a direct consequence of the naivety of the council and shows a blatant disregard for the council's own rules."

At the time of announcing Mrs Hill's salary, a council spokesman said: "We had to find someone capable of running a large, complex organisation providing vital services to 700,000 people and some of the most vulnerable in our communities. Talent like that is rare and does not come cheaply."

"We spend around £1 billion a year on behalf of the people of Suffolk and employ 27,000 people."

"You would not leave a business that size without a CEO. If we had not appointed a chief executive and services began to suffer, people would be right to complain."

Cllr Lim said: "The district auditor will decide whether or not to investigate. In rare cases the auditor can recommend the Audit Commission to place fines on an authority."

Club's auction for MS

FORMER England and Ipswich Town footballer Kevin Beattie will attend a charity auction and karaoke night on Saturday to raise cash for the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

The event will take place from 7pm at the Rose Tavern pub, Haverhill, and has been organised by the town's Ipswich Town Independent Supporters' Club, of which Kevin Beattie is the president. His wife suffers from the illness.

It is estimated that 85,000 people are living with MS in the UK, many of them young adults.

Lots up for auction include a £5,000 bedroom suite, tea at the Ritz, a £200 champagne punt trip, clothing from a Coronation Street star, a signed Barcelona shirt, a large signed framed record and poster from Editors, a framed signed picture of Sir Cliff Richard, a signed Searchers DVD, a Frank Skinner shirt, and other signed items from top personalities, plus a special donation from Carol Vorderman.

There are also raffle prizes including camera equipment, jewellery, and tickets for greyhound racing.

Steam show goes on to honour Don

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A POPULAR steam show will go ahead this summer as a tribute to its long-term organiser Don Loveday, who died earlier this year.

The annual Thurlow and Haverhill Steam and Country Show will take place on Saturday and Sunday, August 2 and 3 at the Horseheath Racecourse.

This year's organiser, Michael Pumfrey said: "Following the passing of our dedicated organiser, Don Loveday, the committee has been working hard to put the show together, both to celebrate his memory and also to continue raising money for the many local charities we have supported over the years."

Among the attractions expected to attend this year's event are up to 25 full-size steam engines, complemented by steam models, vintage tractors and vehicles, and stationary engines.

With the help of the East Anglian Traction Engine Society, organisers are also looking to expand the working demonstration area, which has proved popular in the past few years.

There will be a selection of trade and market stalls, as well as bygone displays and crafts, as well as a licensed beer tent.

Visitors can also see the show from the air with helicopter flights.

Anyone who would be interested in helping run the event, or local businesses wishing to sponsor an engine, can contact Mr Pumfrey on 07711 988332 or email mrpumfrey@tractionengines.com

Trust's books back in black

A HEALTH trust is celebrating being debt free for the first time after paying off £18.9 million.

Suffolk Primary Care Trust (PCT) says the historic debt in the county is now a thing of the past, thanks to efforts from NHS organisations and "robust" financial plans. It is set to pay back the final £12 million of debt this month.

It means the PCT is now free to invest around £17m in extending and improving services in 2008/09. These will include developing education programmes for people with long-term conditions, improving access to community health services and increasing "talking therapies" to help people with depression and anxiety.

Julian Herbert, Suffolk PCT's director of performance, said: "We have worked really hard to reduce the debt, looking at every area of expenditure within the PCT."

"Suffolk PCT staff and those across the NHS organisations have put in an incredible effort in what have been difficult times to achieve this."

"Our improved efficiency on spending has been helped by using generic drugs instead of more expensive branded medication, helping people avoid long-term stays in hospital and merging PCTs.

"While working to turn around our financial position we, and our partner organisations, have still delivered good quality healthcare to the people of Suffolk."

"We have performed well against national targets to reduce waiting times from referral to treatment, in accident and emergency and for diagnosis and treatment of cancer."

"Now we can build on our good work to make further improvements in people's health and preventing ill health."

Alastair McWhirter, chairman of Suffolk PCT, said: "I am delighted with the progress the PCT has made since we were established in October 2006."

"The financial challenge was huge but through the commitment and hard work of PCT staff and our partners in the NHS we have put the debt behind us and seen improvements in performance."

"We can start the new financial year with confidence and in a strong position from which to deliver further improvements and investment in services."

Suffolk PCT was formed in October 2006 by merging of four PCTs - Ipswich, Suffolk Central, Suffolk Coastal and Suffolk West.

Those PCTs handed over a £35.4 million historic debt to the single organisation.

■ WHO'LL BE THE BEST? . . . Philip Robinson, from Taylor's Foundry, with one of 11 awards which will be handed out next month.

Firms line up to vie for big prizes

LOCAL firms are lining up to vie for top honours at the second CB9 Business awards next month.

The event is organised by the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, in association with the Weekly News, and 12 awards will be handed out at a gala ball at Chilford Hall, Linton, on Saturday, May 17.

Tickets for the awards are now on sale. The black-tie evening will start with a welcome reception, followed by a three-course dinner and the awards presentation. Jacen and the Rockanauts will then keep guests dancing into the early hours. Tickets cost £75 per person.

Fundraising for the evening will support the St Nicholas Hospice.

Good sports put fitness to ultimate test

A midlife crisis or just plain madness has prompted two local businessmen to celebrate milestone birthdays by taking part in major sporting events for charity.

This Sunday, just one week after celebrating his 50th birthday, Gerry Taylor, chairman of Taylors Foundry, will be joining 46,500 other runners in the London Marathon.

Not to be outdone, Paul Donno, chairman of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce and managing director of Paul Donno & Co Ltd, accountants and business advisors, will be taking part in the Michelob Ultra London Triathlon on Sunday, August 4 as part of his 40th birthday celebrations.

The pair have been pounding the streets of Haverhill while they train together and have developed a competitive spirit to spur each other on. Although Gerry is no stranger to competitive sport, having cycled as an amateur at an international level from 1979 to 1986, it's been some time since he has taken on such a challenge. He said: "I like to think that I have kept myself in good shape over the years and now I guess that my belief will be put to the test.

"We all have secret ambitions that we would like to achieve before it's too late and running the London Marathon has been one of mine for a long time. The realisation that I will be 50 this year has spurred me into action. I love a challenge and feel really motivated, not only to complete the marathon but to accomplish it in a respectable time.

"Since I started my serious training in December I have been averaging 25 miles a week and I have recently achieved 20 miles in one session.

"This will be a big achievement for me: my last claim to sporting fame was winning a stage in the 1979 Milk Race and being shortlisted for the 1980 Olympics."

Paul has signed up to complete the triathlon taking place at Excel in London's Docklands. Following on from his successful London to Paris charity bike ride last year, Paul will be undertaking a 750 metre swim in the Thames, and a 20km bike ride, followed by a 5km run.

■ MILESTONE CHALLENGES . . . for Gerry Taylor and Paul Donno

Picture: David Johnson 475603.

The triathlon is expected to attract 11,000 competitors over two days. Paul has been in training since October and while the swimming and cycling are not presenting too much of a problem, the run is a real challenge.

Paul said: "After completing the London-Paris bike ride I was wondering what I could do next. The idea of joining Gerry in the marathon did not appeal one bit – I couldn't imagine running for 10 miles let alone 26 and a bit.

"I thought the triathlon might be interesting. The training regime means that I need to swim, cycle and run so it's varied and great for all-round fitness.

Now that I am approaching 40 I guess keeping fit and healthy needs to be a priority."

Gerry and Paul are both long-standing members of Haverhill Round Table and will be raising money for the Round Table Children's Wish charity, which grants wishes to children with life-threatening illnesses.

To find out more about Children's Wish, visit www.rtcw.org

So far Gerry has raised £1,400 but has a target of £2,000. To sponsor Gerry or Paul visit www.justgiving.co.uk/gerry_taylor1 and www.justgiving.co.uk/paul_donno1

Praise for award

AN AWARD-winning hotel has received a visit from its local MP.

Richard Spring visited the Days Inn hotel in Haverhill, which was recently awarded a Hotel of the Year Award by the chain, and met its manager, Donna Revell.

A year ago, gale force winds ripped off the new hotel's roof and Mr Spring said the award was well deserved recognition for all the hard work which had gone into making the hotel one of the best in the area.

Mr Spring said: "With the increasing amount of investment in Haverhill it is important that we have hotels of the highest standard to offer businessmen and visitors alike so that they will want to return."

STD rates high

HIGH rates of sexually transmitted diseases are prevalent in East Angli-ans under 16s, figures show.

The Liberal Democrats obtained parliamentary answers showing the number of teens suffering from chlamydia in the region rose from 77 in 2002 to 89 in 2006, a total of 467 diagnoses over the five-year period.

There was also a high rate of genital warts among the under-16s, with 43 cases in 2002, 34 in 2003, 57 in 2004, 46 in 2005 and 49 in 2006.

Genital herpes figures are seven for 2002, 10 for 2003; 10 for 2004; 19 for 2005; and 14 for 2006.

There were no diagnoses of syphilis, and gonorrhoea declined from 14 cases in 2002 to nine in 2006.

HAVERHILL OSTEOPATHIC AND SPORTS INJURY PRACTICE IS EXPANDING!!!

Christine Jefferys, a qualified and registered Osteopath at the Haverhill Osteopathic and Sports Injury Practice has now been working in Haverhill for 3 years.

Due to the continued success she has decided to expand by moving to a bigger and better premises' and is taking another Osteopath on board, James Piercy. Other healthcare professionals, i.e. chiropodist, acupuncturist, podiatrist could be coming on board in the near future as part of our continuing improvement to our services provided.

What is Osteopathy

Osteopathy is an established system of diagnosis & manual treatment which is recognised by the British Medical Association as a discrete clinical discipline. Osteopaths are trained to diagnose and treat many causes of pain which stems from abnormalities in our bodies structure and function.

What Osteopaths treat

- Low back pain - disc injuries
- Neck pain - whiplash
- Joint pain - Hip, knee, ankle, shoulder, elbow, wrist
- Nerve impingement - sciatica
- Tendonitis – Achilles' tendon, tennis elbow, rotator cuff
- Ligament and muscle strain
- Frozen shoulder
- Headaches
- Lifting injuries
- Repetitive strain injuries

Visiting an Osteopath

On the first visit, a thorough consultation and examination will be taken. This includes biomechanical assessments and neurological testing. Further investigations may include blood tests, x-ray or MRI scan if this is deemed necessary at your GP surgery or hospital. A treatment plan will be tailored to suit the individual's needs. Osteopathic treatment involves manual techniques such as soft tissue massage, spinal manipulation, joint mobilisation and stretching techniques. You will also have the benefits from the use of tens, ultra-sound and dry needling if required. Rehabilitation and advice on further injury prevention and postural corrections i.e.; workplace, driving.

Patient protection

All qualified and registered Osteopaths are on a statutory register conducted by the General Osteopathic Council (GOsC) to show that they are safe and competent. Osteopaths also have medical malpractice insurance and follow a strict code of conduct including data protection.

In 1993, Osteopathy was the first major complementary healthcare professional to be accorded statutory recognition under the 1993 Osteopathic act.

Training consists of a 5 year degree course covering anatomy, physiology, pathology, biomechanics and treatment techniques.

Arnold's night to remember

A PLEASINGLY large audience turned out for a night of stirring music from Arnold Sinfonia at Haverhill Arts Centre – and gave a substantial boost to the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

Haverhill is privileged to have such a large gathering of highly skilled professional musicians regularly performing in its midst and it is disappointing at times that more of the population do not go along to appreciate them.

But that wasn't the case on Sunday when a packed audience demanded and received an encore. Continuing its tradition of

Review: Arnold Sinfonia
By Jo Deeks

performing lesser known works, the sinfonia opened with Anton Stepanovich Arensky's Variations on a Theme of Tchaikovsky's Op.35, with soaring strings showing why he is one of Russia's most celebrated composers.

The Sibelius piece continued the theme to Tchaikovsky with soothing strings and soaring crescendos. Leroy Anderson's Plink, Plank, Plunk could not fail to bring a smile to the audience, with the clever plucking of strings giving a unique if short burst of light relief, before the more serious tones of the Clarinet Concerto No. 1 Op.20, featuring teenage prodigy Anna Hashimoto. Her playful tones helped to lift the mood of the more traditional piece, which was probably the least popular choice of the audience.

In the second half the master Tchaikovsky came into his own with the Serenade in C Op.48 encompassing every aspect of his music, from the soaring serenade to graceful waltz and the solemn finale. This is the kind of music that absorbs you, allows you to drift into your own little world of interpretation.

It was a night of magnificent music, which fully endorsed the orchestra's newly-achieved professional status under the immensely talented baton of musical director Kevin Hill.

Spring Property Guide

Make time for a 'Spring Clean'!

SPRING is finally upon us, and if you've decided to sell your home, now is the time to get working on your kerb appeal.

Whether you're getting ready for a first date or going for a job interview, everyone knows that first impressions really count, and the same goes for your house. Apparently minds are made up within the first few seconds of looking at a property, so where better to make a good impression than at the front?

Imagine you're a buyer, and take a look at your home's frontage as if you're seeing it for the first time. How does the driveway look? Is it cracked, full of weeds and painfully tired? Give it a good tidy up and take another look - if it's beyond repair, consider having it resurfaced.

If you have a front garden, make sure the lawn is neatly cut, all rubbish is cleared and any dead plants are whipped out. Head for the garden centre and buy some bedding plants, window boxes, and perhaps even a couple of topiary lollipop trees to go either side of your front door.

Remember that your front garden is almost more important than the back garden, as your viewers will have made up their minds long before they get to that!

Last but not least clean your windows, then scrub your front door. If it's peeling or stained, sand it down and give it a fresh lick of paint, and remember to wipe down all the door furniture too.

Tidying up your home's frontage may take a day or two of hard work, but with luck it will make it far more saleable.

Cheffins launch new website

LOCAL firm Cheffins has recently launched a new-look website.

Completely redesigned and improved, the new site allows even better access to the broad range of professional services that Cheffins offer from their five local offices.

The site features a redesigned search system for local residential properties for sale and rent, and includes a large amount of information about each property, such as interactive maps, aerial photographs, local information, floor plans and numerous images.

There is also the facility to download the latest catalogues and view the results of the many auctions Cheffins holds for antiques, machinery and property. Browsers can also search for commercial and rural property.

Jamie Warner, sales manager at Cheffins, said: "This new site really is at the cutting edge of technology, yet manages to remain simple enough for anyone to use. "The feedback we've had is very positive and the number of visits to all areas of the site has considerably improved. But what is most noticeable is the number of people from out of the area viewing the site, both in this country and abroad.

"It seems people are now regularly choosing to use cheffins.co.uk to look for local property, rather than the big portal sites. We're delighted with the improvement."

Create more space with no planning

ASPIRING to create a truly individual home is a dream shared by thousands of homeowners. And sometimes it can be easier than you think . . .

Making the most of your home is the sensible option in 2008 with a struggling housing market and a credit squeeze to contend with. But before you start, did you know there is a huge range of new buildings and extensions that can be built, and alterations and modifications that can be made without needing anything but building regulations consent? This is known as 'Permitted Development'.

To help you understand what improvements can be made to your home without needing planning, the organisers of The National Homebuilding & Renovating Show, on at the NEC from today until April 13, have some excellent tips (although do bear in mind that some freedoms do not apply to listed buildings, and restrictions apply in some areas).

■ New Windows and Doors

No permission is needed to create new windows or doors in an existing house, regardless of whether a new first or ground floor window might overlook an adjoining property or be objected to. This creates endless possibilities to take advantage of existing views, improve the outlook and feel of existing rooms, or to entirely rearrange the way a house is used and laid out.

■ Attached Buildings

Existing non-habitable areas, such as integral garages, outhouses and other attached buildings, can be converted into part of a house without permission. There are plenty of 1960s houses, built with integral garages, which can be massively improved by incorporating this space into the ground floor, as well as numerous Victorian houses with attached outbuildings to the rear.

■ Loft Conversions

Utilising an existing roof space to create additional rooms does not require permission. Loft space takes up a large unused percentage of most houses and converting it is an efficient and cost-effective way of transforming a house. The necessary staircase and other internal changes can all be done without the need to consult with the planners.

■ Single Storey Extensions

Provided a house has not been extended before (or since 1948 if it was built before that date), it can be enlarged by a total of 10 per cent of its volume, if it is a terraced house. This additional space includes roof extensions. For larger, detached houses it is 15 per cent. There are some rules that you need to watch out for (relating to roof pitch and proximity to an existing road) but by using your Permitted Development Rights in this way you can make big improvements. These rules do not apply if you live in a conservation area or area of outstanding natural beauty, so check. Visit www.planningportal.gov.uk for more information and take advantage of their online volume calculator.

■ Outbuildings

The construction and use of a detached building in a garden offers huge possibilities for additional space. It could be a games room, home office, teenage lounge, workshop, laundry, guest bedroom etc. Constructing outbuildings is restricted in Conservation Areas, but it is not restricted in green belt areas. There is no actual limit to the floor-space of outbuildings as long as they do not cover more than half the garden area or exceed four metres in height (three metres with a flat roof). They should be further than five metres from the house and not situated between the house and any road.

■ Rooflights

The insertion of rooflights in any existing roof does not require permission, so a roof conversion becomes a real possibility even if the space is quite limited the fire escape necessary for building regulations can sometimes be created through an enlarged rooflight. Existing single storey ground floor rooms like kitchens and living rooms can be made much lighter and more airy by opening up the ceiling to expose the roof.

■ Inside

Rearranging the interior of a house to create or subdivide rooms using partition walls does not need planning permission, nor does inserting or removing floors. A barn conversion, with large areas of vertical space, may look good but does not always make for efficient use of the building's space – inserting new floors to create the additional rooms does not need planning permission.

■ Do Your Homework

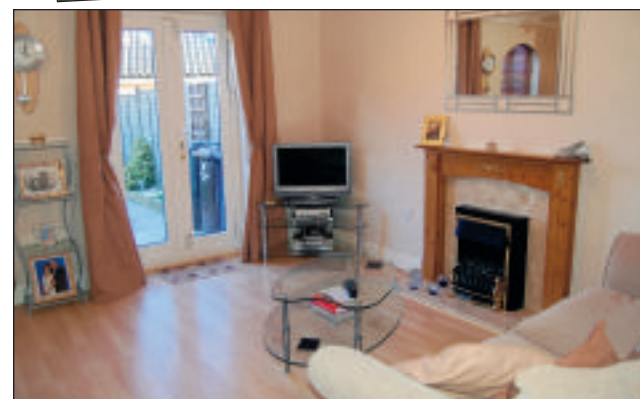

Get as much information as possible before you start. Contact your local planning office to find out about Permitted Development Rights visit the Government website www.planningportal.gov.uk/buildingwork and visit The National Homebuilding & Renovating Show at the NEC from today until April 13 and meet local authority planning experts on the Planning Portal stand (B19), who will be able to advise you.

The show also features more than 550 exhibitors, The Eco Homes Show, The Smart Home Show, The Restoration Pavilion and 120 free seminar and masterclass sessions over the four days. Tickets are £10 in advance or £14 on the door (children under 16 go free). For more information visit www.homebuildingshow.co.uk or call 0871 945 4547.

Glorious time to sell your house

SPRING is the ideal time to put your property on the market, as the days are longer and lighter, the sun is shining, and moods are generally improving! Here are some tips for selling your home at this glorious time of year:

■ Give your walls and ceilings a fresh coat of paint, and remember that neutral colours to appeal to the widest audience. Cool white interiors help to reflect shafts of natural sunlight, or choose tones of cream, beige or even pale grey. ■ Neutral does not have mean boring, and there's no need to banish colour. A 'feature wall' can enliven a simply-dressed room, or add splashes of colour with cheerful cushions and coloured prints on the wall.

■ Use flowers to brighten up your home. Yellow daffodils and delicate freesias not only look beautiful, but they smell wonderful too.

■ Keep bathrooms as uncluttered as possible. Put everything away in cabinets, and present your essential shampoos and shower gels in matching glass storage jars.

■ De-clutter your living areas as much as possible. Buyers want to picture themselves in your home, so put away those personal knick-knacks and photographs. Pack away your winter clothes and bedding to prevent bulging wardrobes. Buy storage bags which you can vacuum-pack using your Hoover, and store them under beds.

■ The garden can be at its best in springtime. Plant colourful flowers and trim hedges to create a feeling of space.

■ Work out the best time of day for viewings, such as when there is less traffic, or when your home gets the most sunshine. Make sure your property is spotlessly clean before each viewing: Hoover and dust thoroughly, then open the windows to let the fresh air and sunlight pour in.

In a race you run faster to win!

In a booming property market 'Sole Agency' is a way of reducing agency fees with a fair degree of confidence that your property will sell, but when the market slows you sometimes need to look for a way to spur things on!

Nothing concentrates an estate agents mind better than making them think that they may not get paid, so by introducing an element of competition we know that you will increase your chances of selling. At Move To The Future we relish the challenge and race to win.

If your current estate agent has gone off the pace, call us today and we will be pleased to add the competitive element. Our 'multi-agency' fees are extremely keen and we have some special incentives available to attract people to your home.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

WHO TO NOTIFY:

- ☐ Banks.
- ☐ Building Societies.
- ☐ Credit companies.
- ☐ Insurance companies.
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and Water Boards.
- ☐ Telephone company.
- ☐ Local Authority (Rating Department).
- ☐ Driving Licence authorities.
- ☐ Inland Revenue.
- ☐ Store cards and accounts.
- ☐ Other lease, hire or rental companies.
- ☐ Employer.
- ☐ Doctor.
- ☐ Dentist.
- ☐ Schools.
- ☐ Professional Bodies/Trade Unions.
- ☐ Motoring organisations.
- ☐ Newsagent.
- ☐ Friends and relatives.

French twist to Germanic C5

COPYING German cars in an effort to suggest quality seems to be the in thing at the moment.

A couple of weeks ago Chrysler did it with the 300C. Now Citroen has taken up the idea with a TV ad which actually proclaims “It is a German car – made in France!”

It seems that if you sell largely to business users and you want to pinch some of the sales enjoyed by BMW, Mercedes and Audi, you turn the interior black, sober up the trim and limber up your “For you ze vor is over” accent.

Citroen has taken on board the fact that a lot of user-choosers regard floaty hydraulic self-levelling suspension as outrageously dilettante and avant-garde. So on the new C5 – a particularly handsome mid-sized business/family car – there are now two suspensions.

Opt for the manual version of each model and you will get coil springs and orthodoxy. Go for the automatic version and with it will come very fluid hydraulic suspension which is about as French as Monet’s jardin at Giverny.

The rest of the package comes down to how much either you, or

FIRST DRIVE

Citroen has saloon flair

your fleet manager, is prepared to spend. On the upper trim levels you can have both front and rear seats that offer massage, a lane departure warning system and no less than nine airbags should it go horribly wrong on the way to a ditch.

Citroen’s sidestep towards Teutonic efficiency can, by the very nature of things, only go so far. On the rather elegant dashboard there are twirly shapes in chrome and a bit of boudoir business around the door handles, neither of which is from the Bauhaus school of design. You cannot submerge Gallic flair completely and this is certainly echoed in the sheer silence and comfort the new C5 has to offer – plus its ability to do a bit of serious wafting on an empty motorway.

Both petrol and diesel engines are on offer, including a large V6 diesel, but the highest sales are likely to be with the 2.0-litre diesel. I found this provides excellent power for getting to meetings fast plus with a reasonable degree of economy. Surprisingly the 2.0-litre petrol version has a very sporty note which jars with the German limousine image.

As with other Citroens the dashboard tends towards complication. Passenger and cargo space is generous while the do-everything radio system “offers an acoustically enhanced audio experience”.

BASICALLY . . .

A C-Class car with a huge range of choice as to engines, trim and suspension. Versions with orthodox suspension are designed to remove that look of fear from the eyes of fleet managers who just want a quiet life. But if you fancy slobbering along letting it all hang out, this is definitely for you.

VERDICT

Citroen C5

- Price: £15,595 to £24,395
- Looks: Smoother, better
- Handling: Traditional suspension gives sharper feel
- Practicality: Large boot, good interior space
- Performance: 2.0-litre engines give good results

■ THE RENAULT SCENIC . . . the benchmark when it arrived, this small French MPV remains excellent value.

Used MPVs become a popular option

WHILE many industry experts say they would opt for an estate car when buying a previously-owned cargo and people mover, the great majority of the car-buying public are seeking out MPVs instead.

That's the verdict from buyer advice outfit UsedCarExpert.com, whose spokesman Matt Tumbridge says estates tend to be cheap as chips and offer as much, if not more, practicality than a mini MPV.

"The three MPVs listed below are the most popular downloaded guides in their sector on UsedCarExpert at present," says Tumbridge. "They are very similar in many ways, but take a look at how the prices vary – and it is obvious which one the bargain is."

■ Vauxhall Zafira (1999-present) – "Zafiras are clever and compact, but not getting cheaper as a used buy," warns Tumbridge. "It is one of the best medium-sized people carriers around, and, being a Vauxhall, there're lots for sale at reasonable prices."

■ THE VAUXHALL ZAFIRA . . . offers plenty of clever storage solutions.

Most economical model is the 2.0 DTi, returning an average 42.8mpg, and the website says best used buy is the 2.2 Elegance.

UsedCarExpert.com lists 14 fault checks, and prices a 2004 2.0 Dti, with 36,000 miles on the clock, at between £8,675-£10,275.

■ Renault Scenic (1997-2003) – "These offer plenty of room, and are cheap to run and buy," states Tumbridge.

■ THE CITROEN XSARA PICASSO . . . stylish and reliable, it's a great all-rounder.

"It may only seat five, but it is very practical and the large number in the marketplace mean low prices. The revised model from 1999 is better," he adds.

Most economical model is the 1.9 dTi, returning 49.6mpg, and best used buy is a 1.8 Alize.

UsedCarExpert.com has a hefty 26 buyers' checks listed, and prices a 2003 1.9 dCi Dynamique, with 56,000 miles, at the £5,450 to £6,350 mark.

■ Citroen Xsara Picasso (2000-present) – "Spacious and compact MPV that is big value on the used market, and they are reliable and easy to live with," says Matt Tumbridge. "It arguably has the most stylish design too."

Most economical model is the 2.0Hdi, with its overall 51.4mpg, and best used buy is a Picasso with SX specification.

UsedCarExpert.com buyers has 20 fault checks online, and prices a 2004 2.0 HDi, with a mileage around 27,000, at between £6,800-£7,975.

Two premium compact convertibles, out soon in the UK market, will set a new benchmark for drop-top residual values, predicts EurotaxGlass's, publisher of auto industry bible Glass's Guide. When BMW 1-Series and Audi A3 cabriolet examples do come onto the second-hand market after three years and 60,000 miles, the publisher says they should command 50 per cent of their list price.

Drop-top residuals looking good

TWO prestige-brand compact convertibles, to be introduced to the UK market this year, will establish a new benchmark for drop-top residual values, according to EurotaxGlass's, publisher of auto industry 'bible' Glass's Guide. When the newly-launched BMW 1-Series and Audi A3 cabriolets reach the second-hand market later this year, they are expected to command exceptionally high prices relative to their original cost new. Initial demand for the German duo could well see used examples selling for near-list price, just as is the case for ultra-exclusive convertible sports cars from the likes of Aston Martin and Lamborghini.

Even as supply of second-hand units increases, EurotaxGlass's forecast remains strong, with the diesel models expected to hold onto 50 per cent of their list price after three years and 60,000 miles.

"There is nothing else like the BMW or Audi on sale at present," comments Jason King, Head of Market Intelligence at EurotaxGlass's.

"Since the demise of the Volkswagen Golf, the market has lacked a small, desirable, fabric-roof convertible. Many manufacturers have opted to launch coupe-convertibles with folding hard roofs instead of the more traditional soft tops, a move which has failed to attract the more image-conscious drivers who like people to know that they drive convertibles.

"We believe that a good number of prospective buyers have been waiting for a compact cabriolet from a prestige-brand carmaker. For these consumers the 1-Series and A3, which have created a new niche in the drop-top market, will fit the bill."

THE BMW 1 SERIES CONVERTIBLE... exceptionally high residuals.

THE AUDI A3 CABRIOLET S LINE... just what the market's been waiting for.

King concludes: "Limited availability of these cars on the used car scene will bring strong residual values initially, while low ownership costs in the longer term will be aided by the fact that both vehicles will retain a healthy proportion of their value even after three years."

YOUTH FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

PLAYERS SOUGHT . . . West Wrattling Youth are currently looking for players to join the players pictured above to increase their squad for when the move to colts' 11 a-side football next season.

The club is very keen to hear from any potential players, who are currently in school Year 5 and are interested in joining a friendly, well-organised team, which is run by FA-qualified coaches.

Wrattling are currently holding trials on Tuesdays, 6-7.15pm at Motts Field, Haverhill. If you are interested, please contact Rob on 07980 811194 or email rkj@herma.co.uk for further details. For more information visit the team's dedicated website at www.clubwebsite.co.uk/westwrattlingwarrriors/under10s/reds

Williamson on target to set up Thurlow

Thurlow Youth U11 4
Aztecs Juniors U11 2

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 11A
HIGH-FLYING Aztecs confidently travelled to Thurlow with a 100 per cent record in the league, although only one goal separated the teams in their last encounter.

Aztecs started brightly, but it was not long before Thurlow were dominating the play.

The scoring opened on 17 minutes when Culley snuffed out an Aztec attack and pass to Williamson, who deftly lifted the ball over the keeper. Thurlow continued to press with Goodings hitting a post. With the first half coming to a close Aztecs scored to level things up at half-time.

Thurlow started the second period stronger and regained the lead when Wilson's vicious strike led to an own goal from the attempted clearance. Bailey's persistence gave him the third soon after, and Thurlow's fourth came as Bates put the ball through to Goodings, who slotted home after wrong-footing the keeper.

As the game entered the last 10 minutes, a cross from the right was well met by the Aztec attacker. Keeper Brown was unlucky as his point-blank save fell back to the striker, who pushed his shot across the line. With the score at 4-2, Aztecs found a renewed energy and forced a string of corners, but Thurlow stood firm. Thurlow's Kirtling Garage man of the match was Harry Wilson.

Black day as Hawks are finally downed

Ely Crusaders U15 3
Hundon Hawks U15 0

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 15C

IT WAS a sad day for Hawks Under 15's as their unbeaten run since last autumn came to an end.

After creating a couple of early chances, Hawks were rocked by a defensive mistake which gave Ely the lead.

Two minutes later, unfortunate keeper Simon Walters miskicked a backpass, enabling the Ely centre forward a tap in to make it 2-0.

Worse was to follow with the slightly harsh sending off of Nathan Poole.

For the whole first half, Hawks just could not get into the game and found themselves under pressure.

The second half was pretty even considering it was 10 against 11 and driven forward by excellent displays from Lewis Brown and Ben Robinson, Hawks created plenty of pressure. However, there were precious few chances for Hawks, who still have a chance of promotion.

Bluntisham Rangers U14 4
Grampian Gunners U14 1

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 15C

WITH 15 minutes to go there was still no score in this match and Grampian looking the likely winners.

But, as is so often the case, one mistake can cost prove decisive.

The first half was an even affair with Halls having Grampian's best chance and the home side striking the woodwork.

The second period was much the same until late on when a goalkeeping error put Bluntisham in front.

A harsh penalty made it two and that was followed by a third.

The visitors struck back through Jackson after good work by Bailey, but Bluntisham added a fourth in stoppage time.

West Wrattling U11 3
Whittlesford Warriors 0

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 11A

WRATTING showed great character and played some impressive football to come out on top of this closely fought battle.

The first half saw Wrattling take the game to Whittlesford with Foster, Lambert and Scotton creating early chances.

Cooper was unlucky not to score on two occasions and Scotton and Lambert were both denied by the keeper.

The impressive Bush caused problems for Warriors' defence, which remained resilient, as the first half remained goalless.

Early in the second half, Whittlesford were caught on the break and Cooper buried a rebound to open the scoring.

Wrattling had Ager carried off after a clumsy challenge and Bush was also left bruised, but it did not deter Wrattling as they continued to play football.

Six minutes later, Lambert made it 2-0 with a volleyed lob over the keeper.

Lambert completed the scoring with six minutes remaining as he half-volleyed in on the turn from a clever ball over the defence by Bush.

Scotton was named man of the match and Lambert received the opposition managers award.

Plantation Youth U10 0
West Wrattling Red U10 6

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10D

WRATTING broke the deadlock after 10 minutes when Alex Carter netted from close range.

Within minutes, Carter scored again when he pounced on a loose ball to fire home.

Wrattling's Will Bailey saw his shot go agonisingly inches wide of Plantation's upright, but, with half-time looming, Joshua Osuchukwu put his side further ahead with a thunderbolt shot from 15 yards.

After the interval, Wrattling picked up the pace with Carter completing his hat-trick goal with his side's fourth.

Steve Boyles quick snap shot from distance then beat Plantation to put his side further ahead.

With time running down the last goal came when Sam Street set up Ben Eames to score from close range.

Lawshall U10 0
Grampian Gunners U10 4

GEORGE Mustoe set up Jack Davis to sweep home Gunners' opener.

Minutes later, Bailey Cassidy sent Toby Daly free and he curled home a 25-yard beauty.

The second half saw Lewis Whiting send in Jamie Lingard, who was tripped in the box. Josh Matthewson slotted home the penalty.

From a corner, Lingard crossed to Matthewson, who volleyed home.

Before the end, Lawshall were denied as man-of-the-match Lewis Knightly pulled off top class-saves.

GOLF

Winter wonderland as Terry and Linda take helm

THE main event of the week at Haverhill Golf Club was Sunday's Captains' Drive-In when Terry Bishop and Linda MacFarlane were to host the first of several competitions they are due to preside over in the coming months. It all very nearly ended in disaster, though, as on the morning of the event, the course was covered by snow and the first of 146 members had started to arrive. A decision was taken to reduce the round to 15 holes and, as the temperature went up, the snow receded and, before the last of the competitors teed off, lost time had been made up. Among several competitions, the main event was a very close run four-ball betterball stableford with three pairs all finishing on 34 points. Bill Lancee and Peter McLennan were the overall winners on countback from Andy Craig and Dave Whiting with Kim Ward and Richard Rand third. Lady captain MacFarlane was unable to play due to injury, so Pat Kennedy accompanied Bishop, with the pair accumulating 33 points. Meanwhile, there was a rush of matches involving Haverhill teams, led by the juniors, who entertained Bury St Edmunds in the County Junior Championship. The hosts lost by one point. Haverhill ladies' visit to Saffron Walden was washed out, but the home game against Stowmarket went ahead with the Coupals Road team claiming three out of the four matches. A 6-2 loss against Cambridgeshire Menzies, at home, followed by a 5-3 reverse, away to Braintree, has added to the seniors' poor start to the season. But it was smiles and drinks all round for Derek Hill in the Menzies match after his seven iron blow at the 128-yard par three, eighth hole dropped into the cup for an ace. The following day, a further hole-in-one was reported by Terry Symonds and was achieved during a social round. His club was a driver, from which he despatched the ball into the hole at the 185-yard par three, 16th at Coupals Road.

■ Sue Carr turned out in both the Wednesday and Saturday LGU Medal rounds and took third and first places in the Silver Division, while Jackie Condon managed a second and third in the Bronze. Overall results: Wednesday: Silver

Division – D Walker 73, M Sail 78, S Carr 79. Bronze Division – H Eldred 72, J Condon 75, M Kendall 79. Saturday: Silver Division – S Carr 78, E Kiddy 78, P Calmet 80. Bronze Division – A Fairhead 73, S Andrews 78, J Condon 78. ■ Haverhill seniors had a presentation ceremony for the winners of competitions. Recipients were Peter Bowers (Mott Cup), Doreen Darbey (Ladies Cup), Ann Thompson and Peter Cundall (Bleasdale Cup) and John Norris (Kernutt Trophy).

FOOTBALL

Bell deals blow to Rovers hopes

Haverhill 0 Newmarket 1

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

STEVEN Bell struck the decisive goal as rivals Newmarket stunned Haverhill at Hamlet Croft on Tuesday night.

In a game of few chances, the Jockeys went ahead after 33 minutes when Bell's shot on the turn was palmed on to the bar by goalkeeper Jamie Smith and the ball bobbed into the net.

The hosts failed to make an impact, although Sam Green went close to equalising when his fierce volley from 15 yards was well saved by Newmarket shot-stopper Matt Paynter.

Wroxham 1 Haverhill 2

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

PAUL Shaw helped struggling Haverhill cause a massive upset at title hopefuls Wroxham on Saturday.

RESERVES IN TOUCHING DISTANCE OF THE CROWN

Haverhill Rovers reserves are just two points away from bringing the first league title to Hamlet Croft since the 1982-83 season following Saturday's scrappy 2-1 Ridgeons Reserve League (South) victory over Wivenhoe. Both sides were restricted to long-range efforts in a goalless first half. Haverhill started the second period slightly brighter, but went behind on 70 minutes when a Wivenhoe free kick on the corner of the 18 yard box was curled into the bottom corner. Rovers manager Peter Betts then made a triple substitution, bringing on Halls, Hallas and Neil Green for Claydon, Frazier and Catten, reverting to a 3-5-2 formation pushing Sharp into a more familiar centre forward role alongside Jenkin. On 85 minutes, the equaliser came when a deep corner from Sharp found Halls at the far post and his header ricocheted off Green into the bottom corner. Rovers' winner came with seconds to spare. Sharp's cross was handled by a Wivenhoe defender and Neil Hammond spotted the ball home from the spot-kick. Rovers Reserves go into their biggest game of the season at Hamlet Croft on Saturday against Witham Town Reserves knowing a win will secure the title. Kick-off is at 3pm and admission is free.

Shaw nodded home at the near post from Marc Abbott's free kick after just three minutes to put Rovers in front.

Wroxham levelled on 56 minutes, but Haverhill snatched the win after Abbott's corner was headed into his own net by a home defender.

But the visitors' advantage remained in place as keeper

Jamie Smith made a penalty save 13 minutes from time after Gareth Thomas was ruled to have fouled a Wroxham attacker in the penalty box.

Substitute Ryan Kent came close to extending Rovers' lead late on only to see his cross-cum-shot hit the inside of the upright, bounce out and cleared to safety by Wroxham.

■ SAM GREEN ... Had Rovers' best chance on Tuesday night.

TABLE TENNIS

Boulton at the double

MARIA Boulton, who has played in the event for two seasons and is still unbeaten, retained the ladies' title at the Cambridgeshire Table Tennis Association Closed Championships when she beat her Haverhill club colleague Caroline Wright in the final. Boulton teamed up with Alison Greatwood to defeat Helen Arnold and Wright in five sets to clinch the ladies' doubles title.
